From your Chief

Advent Lutheran Church and Osseo Senior High started a food program call the Back Pack Program. The Back Pack Program is available to students of Osseo who are facing food instability on the weekends. Each week, the school will be providing backpacks with non-perishable, easy to prepare food items for students in need. The students will take home a backpack full of food on Friday after school and bring it back empty on Monday morning. There are many students in our community who are either homeless or do not know where or when their next meal is coming from. When students are hungry, they suffer in school. Giving a kid a pack of food is giving them a little more stability, a little more dignity and a chance to worry about homework instead of where their next meal will come from. This is a great way for our residents to make a difference in someone's life. This program is hoping to guarantee 24 backpacks each week. We are rapidly approaching winter break which is a time when these kids will spend 2 weeks away from school and will not have the constant, reliable supply of food. If you are able to give food to this program please feel free to drop it off at City Hall.

Chief Shane Mikkelson

Your Chief,

Shane Mikkelson
