Due to the Contractor being behind schedule and the early onset of winter, the project is being buttoned up for the winter and will start up again next spring. While the Contractor did consider paving the street, the persistent cold temperatures makes this unfeasible. All driveways will be ramped and temporary bituminous patches have or will be placed on driveways, which will need to be redone next spring. The streets have been fully based and should perform relatively well through the upcoming winter and spring.

This will be the last newsletter for the year. We will issue the next newsletter prior to startup of work next spring. The Contractor’s progress on the project has been disappointing but we thank everyone for their patience. Please contact us if you have any further questions.
